Re: Parts Situation F56 Oil Cooler #2

Fellow Motorers,

We have good news about parts shipments.

164 parts have been shipped as of yesterday. All orders should be at your dealerships as of this morning.

Today another 185 parts are being shipped for Saturday (4/12) delivery, for a total of 349 parts shipped this week.

On Monday, 40 parts will arrive in the US and be allocated immediately for Tuesday (4/15) delivery. Additionally, later next week another 224 parts will arrive and be allocated immediately and hopefully arrive by next Saturday (4/19). This means that all parts required for F56 in dealer inventory should have arrived by next Saturday.

We are also expecting another 318 parts to arrive into VDC inventory by Monday (4/21) at which point they will begin promptly repairing and wholesaling cars.

Please note not all shipments will use the VIN as the PO, the PO could also be F56Repairx.

We will send another update on Monday, April 14th.

Please do not attempt to order these parts as all orders will be placed for you.

Thank you,

Amy McNamara
