No More GM Diesel Chassis

As previously notified GM will cease production of 6.0L Diesel Cutaways at the end of MY2016 scheduled for July.

GM is advertising that they will have a 2.4L diesel engine available in the Express/Savana Passenger and Cargo Van.

There are no plans to offer this diesel in cutaways as the engine is only certified based on the frontal area of a van. The raised body height added by upfitters, does not allow the engine to pass certification. There is also a concern of performance issues with the 2.4L engine in vehicles over 10,000lb GVWR.

This leaves our industry without a GM or Ford Econoline diesel powered chassis.
