

ROADSTER 2016 Brake Fluid Reservoir Locking Tube - 129289

Summary:

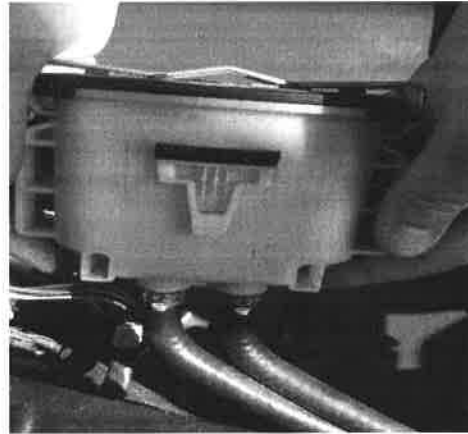

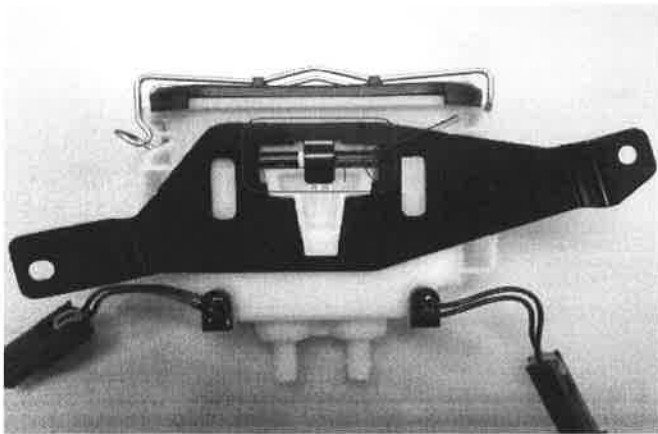

All MY 2016 built from January 26th have now a brake fluid reservoir locking tube.

Type:

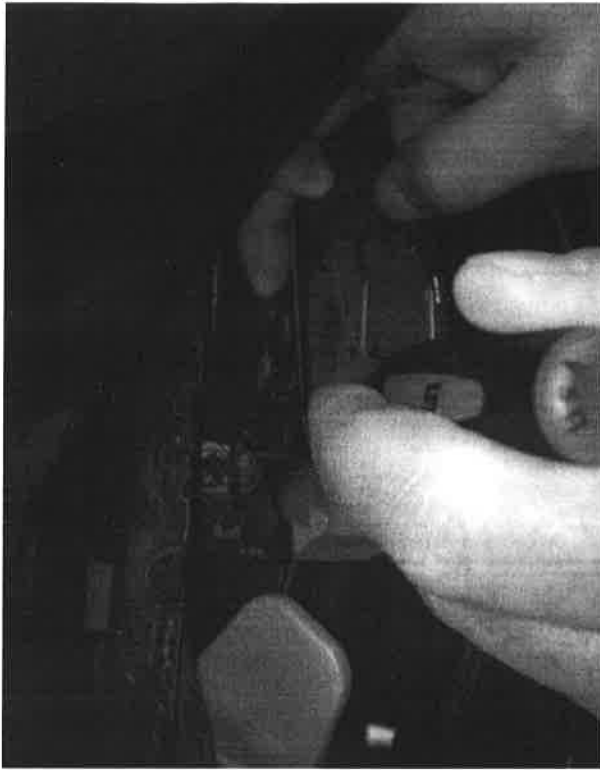

General

TST Detail:

We have found that brake fluid reservoir can unclip by itself. An improvement to avoid that has been done to keep it in place and lock it. All roadster built after Jan. 26th of 2016 will have this locking tube. Note that all 2015 F3 have this reservoir type, so it is recommended to install this tube when servicing units. This locking tube has been added on the electronic parts catalogue for MY 2016.

When servicing a unit, simply use a 90 degrees hook and carefully pry tube just a little to clear bracket. Then use your finger to push it and remove it.
