Condition/Concern

Technicians may find an oil leak after a recent oil change has been performed.

1. GM Approved O-Ring (P/N 55593191)
2. Aftermarket Not GM Approved O-Ring

This may be caused by the use of an aftermarket oil filter and oil filter cap O-ring. These O-rings may use a different density material or different material type other than recommended by General Motors specifications.

Note: The oil filter cap O-ring is required to be replaced at every oil filter change.

Recommendation/Instructions

Inspect the oil filter cap O-ring.

Warranty Information

General Motors is only responsible to cover under the vehicle warranty or the parts warranty the original equipment oil filter cap O-ring.

Any other oil filter cap O-ring of any other color will not be accepted under a warranty claim and would be subject to a debit unless marked as a goodwill claim.

GM bulletins are intended for use by professional technicians, NOT a "do-it-yourselfer". They are written to inform these technicians of conditions that may occur on some vehicles, or to provide information that could assist in the proper service of a vehicle. Properly trained technicians have the equipment, tools, safety instructions, and know-how to do a job properly and safely. If a condition is described, DO NOT assume that the bulletin applies to your vehicle, or that your vehicle will have that condition. See your GM dealer for information on whether your vehicle may benefit from the information.
