

Attached are pictures that you can check if the wires are too long because that can cause electrical interruption inside the Go Power controller. There is a guide at the back of the controller on how long the wires are supposed to be.

