Condition	Some customers or technicians may notice on a gap at the air cleaner duct seal as seen in the photos below. No DTCs or drivability concerns will be noted with this concern, however. The first picture shows the issue circled in red. The second picture is zoomed in for additional detail.

Correction:

Engineering has reviewed this issue and determined that there is very little effect on either the Intake Ambient Temperature system or vehicle performance due to splash/contaminant intrusion for the vehicles that exhibit this gap condition. If this condition is found on a vehicle, no action is required.
