SUBJECT Detroit Powertrain Additional Operations Change

❖ Additional Operations Functionality Change

In collaboration with the Joint Application Development (JAD) Committee, DTNA is making temporary functionality change that is aimed at improving the claim filing process in the long run. Effective immediately, data has been removed from Detroit powertrain component Standard Repair Times (SRTs) so additional operation SRTs will not be visible during claim creation or on the Parts and Labor Lookup (PLL) screen. Users will apply all SRTs individually to powertrain component claims.

❖ Improvements

The additional operations functionality is utilized when a base SRT is used regularly with other SRTs. The other SRTs are for tasks that are often associated with a particular repair. The Add Ops checkbox allows users to apply supplementary SRTs at the same time as the base SRT. In the future, DTNA intends to launch an enhanced version of the additional operations functionality for all Company products and business units; the IT team is working on a cleaner version with more refined SRT data.
