| Condition                  | Some customers may comment on the operation or performance of the 10L80 or 10L90 transmission. |
| Cause                      | Technician's may replace the valve body to address these concerns.                             |

Correction:

If the valve body is replaced the dealer technician may find that software may not accept the Part Unique Number (PUN) during the characterization procedure.

Please be aware that the PUN may contain the letter O or the number 0 as shown in the picture below.

Call Out 1

The number 0.

Call out 2

The letter O.
