

Data Book Update

New Release

We are proud to announce the release of our latest data book to you. This new product will be web-based and accessed via a dedicated link on the Sales Portal. It will eventually replace the Citrix-based version of the data book. A separate announcement will be issued to alert you to the removal of the Citrix-based data book when that date is finalized.

Features and Benefits

All of the current features are still intact. The web version of the data book will not require a user to log-out or revisit the portal should your session see an idle state. Simply refresh your browser to update your session and see the data book again.

Ordering

The new data book will be published to the Sales Portal for all users on 12/13/2019. Visit www.thomasbusonline.com
