Product Change Notice - Power tongue jack with enhanced features

Dear Valued Customer:

Please be advised LCI has changed to a new version of 1817941 Power Tongue Jack, which includes two product enhancements.

The new jack comes with circuit protection for the LED light card, which prevents damage to the LEDs from high current situations. The new jack also has a rubber boot on the switch to increase water and debris protection and avoid damage to the switch.

There is no change to fit, form function or installation with the new tongue jack. The only visible difference is the boot on the switch. There is also no price change and no part number change.

Due to inventory of the current tongue jack depleting faster than projected, the change to the upgraded jack is taking place immediately.
