

Cruise Control Intermittently Dropping...

Kyle Siebert 4,007 posts since Nov 14, 2014

Cruise Control Intermittently Dropping Out Oct 6, 2020 9:37 PM

For a while I have been noticing cruise control dropping out on the highway for p4 Cascadia test drives. Trucks never have complaint of cruise dropping out randomly. And I guess it took me a while to notice because instinctively, when speed slowed down I just hit the cruise accelerate button to pick up speed. Not even realizing cruise was dropping out. Then today I finally realized it's because I hit a bump while accelerating. The ATC/wheel slip lamp flashes and cruise drops out. Pretty sure it does the same on any truck with ABS.

So, it may be an important thing to remember, when a customer comes in with cruise dropping out complaint. If nothing found, could be worn tires, seized leaf spring pivot, or shocks causing poor traction on the pavement.

As well as a filled out questionnaire sheet, only cuts out when bobtailing.

Tags: cruise control, cruise