FYI, Have a 2021 New cascadia MR9823 with 12,499 miles. Build date 8/11/2020. Unit has new style bracket, standard electric tape is only thing wrapped around harness at point of failure. Circuit 62AL shorted to ground a rear mounting bolt for bracket. Safe to say SB54-330 may not be the best repair path.

Do you have pictures, where is this bracket?

Same bracket as always. Hopefully this is a one off truck and we do not continue to see this issue.

I normally wrap that bracket in tape and cover the repair harness near the bracket with cut open coolant hose
