

New Information

The impact of the Coronavirus has disrupted the supply chain for 12V power outlets required for factory builds of Saf-T-Liner C2, Saf-T-Liner HDX and Saf-T-Liner EFX. Effective on orders with build dates of 2/29/2020 and later, we will be transitioning these requirements to our newly released dual USB plug. Additionally, we will be discontinuing the availability of the 12V outlet options in our data book for these product lines until further notice. This transition is required to ensure completion of our upcoming builds. We will not require change orders however we do ask that you make updates to your order templates to the available USB outlet sales options listed by model below. We appreciate your cooperation with this change.

Features and Benefits

- Wired to ignition circuit.
- Easily accessible.
- Debris plug provided.
