Freightliner Automatic Traction Control and Brake Light Activation

Altec is committed to providing our customers reliable products from initial delivery throughout the useful life of the machine.

Daimler Trucks North America LLC, on behalf of its Freightliner Trucks Division and wholly owned subsidiary, Western Star Truck Sales Inc., has decided that a defect which relates to motor vehicle safety exists on specific model year 2011 through 2019 Freightliner 108SD, 114SD, 122SD, Business Class M2, and Coronado vehicles manufactured May 4, 2010 through August 23, 2018.

Certain vehicles built with Electronic Stability Control may cause the brake lights at the rear of the vehicle to illuminate during an automatic traction control (ATC) event. Brake lamps illuminating with the activation of ATC do not meet the intent that brake lamps provide a steady light when intentionally slowing or stopping the vehicle. Brake lights not illuminating as expected may not accurately signal to other motorists the intent of the driver, leading to an increased risk of a crash.

This is the first of two notices you will receive regarding this subject. This letter is to inform you of an upcoming recall to correct the issue noted above. Daimler Trucks is currently securing replacement parts. There is no action for you to take at this time.
