Is it mounted to anything, or sitting there loose? It should be clipped to the bottom of the elec. bay

Interesting like Jesse said it should be under the EBAY snapped in. Will the harness reach if you move it to the correct location?

Was not clipped in electronics bay. Went looking for it and that is where found it. Was installed in that location from the factory. Was passing along so if anyone else run into a missing CGW that is where I found this one. Make note I checked the build date and it was on a Friday.
