Noticed it doesn't give you any pigtails to replace on the aftertreatment side. We literally just had a customer asking about replacing the pigtail on the DEF dosing injector. Looks like you still have to buy the entire harness. It is nice to have the wire probe kit numbers there though for the aftertreatment. The MCM pigtails at least shows most of the pigtails there.

I had saved a ghg17 wiring diagram for the ACM harness from EZWiring & compiled a list of connectors over time. I checked in partspro and saw that they list the same def doser on DD5 as HDEP.
