

TECHNICAL TOPICS BODY/CHASSIS

Knocking Noise From Front Suspension Lower Control Arms	20MY RR Evoque & Discovery Sport
Customer Voice: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - A customer may report a knocking type noise from the front suspension while driving. Technical Description: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The fluid in the lower control arm hydrabush is moving around within the bushing creating a fluid knock noise. Status: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - TSB LTB01294NAS3 published for this concern is being updated reflect non fluid filled lower control arm bushings being introduced in production. - Bushing with Silver paint markings (as shown with the RED 'X') do not have fluid in them from production and do not require modification. - TSB JLRTB02060 will be updated shortly to reflect the change in bushing for production.

PRINTED COPIES ARE UNCONTROLLED