

Containment

Product Update

There has been a supply issue with the gray textured paint used on EFX, HDX, and C2 dash plates. We will be using a black textured paint as a short term solution (image on the left) in lieu of the gray (image on the right). This deviation began on units starting 6/1/21 for EFX and HDX. The same containment on C2 vehicles starting 6/19. We expect this deviation to continue through the month of June.
