

2021 Plateau

1. The bug screen, which is permanently attached to the frame of the sliding door frame seems to have an install issue. If you look at the attached image, you'll see what looks like a cut out of the material that's not under the door switch cover. As this is now exposed, is there a concern of this ripping? The procedure below shows how to re-install the sliding door control switch. You will need to remove the switch and push the material back in behind the switch and then re-secure. I advise you to have this repair done as soon as possible to prevent the material from ripping.

Procedure to insert the control switch back:

1. Looking at the left side of the control switch there is a tab. (picture 1 below)
2. Insert the whole control switch back to the cut out hole
3. On the inner side of the screen inside coach, using a screw driver push the control switch tab to the right so the control switch locks in place (picture 2 below)
