TOL Ref. #19525-SVC

MY TRIUMPH CONNECTIVITY – SPEED TRIPLE 1200 RS UPDATE

This update includes additional information regarding the My Connectivity App issue directly related to the New Speed Triple 1200 RS. iPhone users will not be able to access navigation in the My Connectivity app functionality.

Speed Triple 1200 RS customers with Android phones will not be affected.

For Apple iPhone users, it will appear that the navigation function can be paired within the setup menu and be visible within the instrument trays, however, the navigation function will not work until the upcoming software update is released.

Although the issue with other models was resolved, final testing of the revised software highlighted a bug which needs to be fixed for the Speed Triple 1200 RS. We are urgently working the development as with software partners. A revised ETA will be communicated as soon as possible.
