Condition	The passenger I/P Air Bag parts restriction has ended, but two passenger I/P Air Bag part numbers are no longer available. The passenger I/P Air Bags that are now no longer available are for 2007-2010 Full Size Truck/SUV part numbers: 85522410 (DK CASHMERE) and 85522411 (DK TITANIUM). If either of these part numbers is needed, then this PI will provide directions on how to proceed.
Cause	Parts source change.

Correction:

Proceed if trying to obtain either part number 85522410 (DK CASHMERE) or 85522411 (DK TITANIUM) for a 2007-2010 Full Size Truck or SUV. Inspect the passenger I/P air bag cover to see if it can be removed and reused, then follow the information below.

If the old air bag cover is reusable:

1. Order Passenger I/P Air Bag part number 85522409, which will physically work and fit into the vehicle but the color is ebony.
2. Remove the covers off the old/original and new air bags and then install the old cover onto the new passenger I/P air bag using the procedure below.

If the old passenger air bag cover is NOT reusable: Contact TAC and reference this PI number for additional information.

Passenger I/P Air Bag Cover Removal And Installation Procedure

Note: Do not place airbag module with the airbag side down, this will help reduce any introduction of debris to the airbag itself and then being trapped when the cover is reinstalled.

With the 5 prong side of the airbag facing you, use the large hole in the center of the cover to pull the plastic out and away from the prongs. Once the 5 prong side of the airbag is removed, the 6 prong side should easily be able to be removed as well.

For reinstallation of the correct colored cover, this process should be reversed. Put the correct cover on the 6 prong side and pull the cover towards the 5 prong side. Using the hole in the 5 prong side, pull the cover to slide the 5 prongs into the holes on the airbag module.
