

Effective on new orders received on or after 9/19/22, the lower radiator guard, FL-168-002 will no longer be included as standard equipment on our Saf-T-Liner C2 and eC2. Design changes to the common cooling module have eliminated the exposure of the radiator in the front bumper opening. Additionally, new front bumper mounted equipment that is part of other sales options and features have increased the number of different radiator guard part numbers. For these reasons, the lower radiator guard is no longer necessary on the vehicle, and the lower radiator guard option, 168-002 will become a priced sales option.

The new list price for the lower radiator guard option will apply to new orders committed on or after 9/19/22. Orders committed before 9/19/22 will be built with the lower radiator guard and will not have the list price for this option applied.
