Release Date: July 2022

Symptom/Vehicle Issue: The customer may experience a message in the instrument cluster that comes on briefly while driving, typically during a throttle tip-out/tip-in maneuver. The message may or may not be accompanied by a Mil-On condition and there are usually no noticeable driveability symptoms.

Customer Complaint/Technician Observation: If the customer complaint includes the issue mentioned above, check the vehicle to see if any related driveability DTC's are present.

If DTC's are found, follow published diagnostic routines for the DTC's and repair as necessary.

If no DTC's are found, this condition is under engineering investigation and no repairs are recommended at this time. The customer may be instructed to disregard the message if there is no accompanying Mil-On condition when the message is displayed, until a service solution is released.
