Issue:
A client may report the satellite radio favorite channel display my change, without user input, to highlight a different station to the one previously selected and being played.

Cause:

A PIVI software error after an update to IP37 software.

This is only a visual fault and does not affect audio playback of the station that was originally selected by the client or selection of other favorite stations.

Action:

1. Advise the client that the software concern is under review for correction in future PIVI update.
2. Please also submit an EPQR to report the concern referencing this SSM.

This SSM will be updated once software update to correct this concern is available.
