

Correct Selection of Master Key Guidance

Purpose;

Provide guidance to dealers, technicians, and warranty personnel, to determine correct key selection and usage

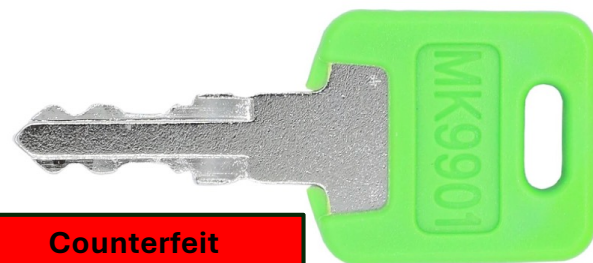

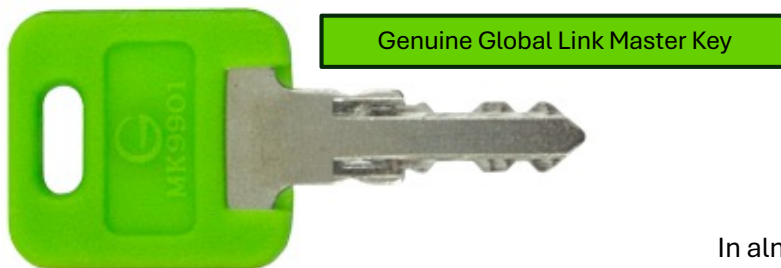

Global Link has become aware of warranty claims where ‘the key will not operate the lock’. After review it has been discovered that counterfeit keys were used. There are multiple sellers on Amazon selling counterfeit keys.

GLOBAL LINK CONCERN

- The unprecedented use of counterfeit master (green) keys from Amazon and other 2nd/3rd party sellers/websites, see appendix A
- Counterfeit and competitor keys are not designed to function in Global Link cylinders.
- The locking wafers in the cylinder can/will be damaged by the use of counterfeit or competitor keys.
- Global Link exclusively sells master (green) keys to authorized dealers verified by Global Link or its retail partner, CPG. These keys are not distributed through Amazon or any unauthorized third-party sellers.

GUIDANCE

Damaged dust cover/cap

In almost all cases, use of a counterfeit master (green) and/or competitors key will damage to the dust cover and scalp of the key cylinder.

Due to the unprecedented use of counterfeit or incorrect keys, Global Link recommends that OEMs reject all claims where the dust cover and/or scalp of the cylinder is damaged.

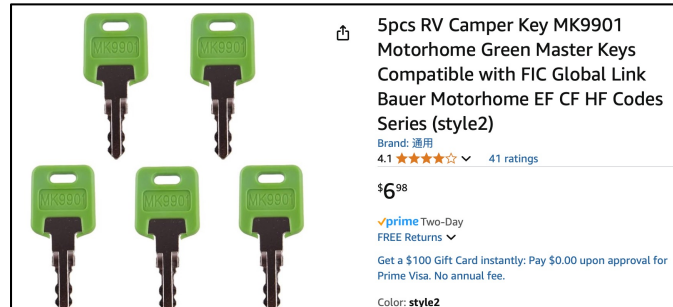

Using keys not purchased directly from Global Link will be considered an automatic exclusion from warranty coverage by Global Link.

★☆☆☆☆ Stuck in lift, not one of them worked. Avoid!
Reviewed in the United States on February 8, 2025
These keys are so poorly made that not one of them worked. They have smashed burred edges where they were not cleanly cut. Additionally, we had to have the rental company come out to remove the ignition as the key would not remove. When held up to a proper key, they are longer on the tip, rough up each channel, and each position is half a pin off. Don't buy these cheaply made keys.

Takes some wiggling for it to work. I'm afraid it will not unlock the lock sometimes. I am thinking of a back up plan.

★★★★★ Didn't work

Reviewed in Canada on June 22, 2022

Item Package Quantity: 5 | Verified Purchase

The quality of the keys were fine but they did not work and the number code/range on my actual key aligned with what they had in their description i.e. it should have worked based on the range they said these keys work for. The cut on the key didn't match my key at all so I was skeptical from the get go. I sent these back and went to a locksmith to get replacement keys cut for my trailer.
