REASON FOR THIS PROGRAM

SERVICE ACTION

Dealers are to collect software level data, using the FDRS (Ford Diagnosis and Repair System) service tool, from affected vehicles and submit a Technical Support Request (TSR) to the Ford Technical Assistance Center. Ford will verify expected software levels before advising the dealer that the repair is complete. In some cases, Ford may communicate back to the dealer that additional software programming is needed to complete repairs. This service must be performed on all affected vehicles at no charge to the vehicle owner.
